March 9th, 2015

To whom it may concern;

I assure that Dr. Murugaboopathy Sivanantham performed his research work in our group at Department of Polymer Chemistry, Kyoto University, Japan, as Post-Doctoral Researcher, from December 2010 to May 2012.

Dr. M. Sivanantham joined my group as a research associate in December 2010. From April 2011, he was a GCOE post doctoral fellow. He had worked in the area of self-assembly of amphiphilic diblock copolymers having betaine in aqueous media which is the one of the research activities of my group.

He had synthesized the amphiphilic diblock copolymers with same hydrophilic block having betaine and different hydrophobic blocks using RAFT polymerization method. He characterized these amphiphilic diblock copolymers using various techniques such as NMR, GPC, DLS, SLS and fluorescence spectroscopic techniques. He had extensively used DLS and SLS techniques to understand the influence of salt on the self-assembly of amphiphilic diblock copolymers in aqueous media.

From these works he had presented some oral and poster presentations in polymer and colloid meetings in Japan and international conference. In addition, he has written two manuscripts from these works as below.

[1] "Salt-dependent surface activity and micellization behaviour of zwitterionic amphiphilic diblock copolymers having carboxybetaine"

Colloid and Polymer Science*, 2015, 293, 5, 1317 - 1328

DOI: 10.1007/s00396-015-3503-1

[2] "Surface active to non-surface active transition and micellization behavior of zwitterionic amphiphilic diblock copolymers: hydrophobicity and salt dependency"

Colloid and Polymer Science, in revision.

Testimonial – Cum – Experience Certificate

As the Secretary of Idhaya Engineering College For Women (IECW), I have known and am associated with Prof.T.V.Christy, for the past one year.

He joined this Institution as its Principal in August 2001. In his capacity as the Head of the Institution, I have found him displaying good organisational skills which are quite essential for a newly established and growing College like IECW. I have noticed his commitment and involvement in guiding the staff members in establishing new facilities such as the 'laboratories' and in the design/implementation of various administrative systems and procedures.

He has also successfully co-ordinated various activities of the Faculty and Staff while presenting 'proposals' to the various inspecting Agencies such as the University and government establishments. He has also appreciably handled and produced excellent results in the mechanical engineering subjects.

As he is looking forward to pursuing his higher studies, he is being relieved from his position with effect from May 30, 2003.

With his sincerity and conscientiousness, Prof.Christy is bound to be blessed with brighter career prospects.

I wish him success in all his career endeavours.
